

SKY AND EARTH

In this design, the blue represents father sky and the cosmos, the Southern Cross represents the stars that guide us in the southern hemisphere, the green represents our mother the earth, and the silver fern represents the new life that springs up between earth and sky. We are the new life, but must still remember where we came from.